Rubright Continues To Deny Any Knowledge Of
His Wife's Death

(Special To The News)
BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 5.—
Formal charges of murder and adultery were laid against James C. Rubright, Harmony garage mechanic, Friday afternoon for the death of his wife, Mrs. Demaris Rubright, on the morning of July 31, and for indiscretions with another woman. Rubright will be given a preliminary hearing before Alderman E. T. Pfeifer some time next week, the day to be decided later.

Sometime this afternoon
Rubright will be taken from the State Police barracks to the Butler county jail, there to await his hearing and trial. The case will come before the September grand jury on Monday, September 4 and will come to trial in the Butler County court house sometime during the second week of September. Rubright continues to deny any knowledge of his wife's death.

Other Cases Doubtful

What will be done in the case of William Rosner and Miss Katherine Schaeffer is doubtful as yet, according to District Attorney Edgar H.
Nesley. Both of them are being held in the Butler jail after admitting that they had been with Rubright on the night before Mrs. Rubright was blown up as she sat in her car on the Bauder School Road, near Portersville.

Rosner was with Rubright when police found the two in Pittsburgh on Monday afternoon, July 31. He and Miss Schaeffer admitted to having been with Rubright and his wife the night before and Rubright admits having been with his wife

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc is in receipt of an anonymous card from somebody in the city who inquires why attention was centered on removal of the oil tank wreckage on the Perry highway, when there are some eyesores in New Castle that should be removed. Well, Pa Newc would be extremely gratified to point out any work of removal of the kind in New Castle, if brought to his attention.

Pa Newc observed a group of youngsters huddled up underneath the covers this morning, in the back yard of a Croton avenue home. The boys had slept out on the ground, and this morning they were well chilled, from appearances, their covers being wet with dew.

North Mercer street, north of Sheridan avenue, which has been in poor condition recently, was fixed up this week and was dragged, making the road smooth, instead of like a washboard, as residents of the district termed it. The street is widely used and the improvement is deeply appreciated by residents of that community north of the George Washington junior high school.

Stratosphere Balloon Flight In Chicago Results In Failure

American Naval Officer Forced Down After Going

Valve Sticks And Balloon Gets Out Of Control—
Flier Is Unhurt

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—
America's first projected conquest of the stratosphere ended in failure here early today when Lieutenant Commander T. G. W. Settle, U. S.
N., was forced down within 20 minutes after his ascent from Soldiers Field.

The daring naval officer from Akron, O., miraculously escaped serious injury when failure of a gas valve forced him down in west side railroad yards, barely missing the Chicago river at Fourteenth street.

He sustained a severe bruise over the right eye, but refused to go to a hospital for examination.

Up 5,000 Feet

Settle later explained that he had attained an altitude of 5,000 feet and he pulled the release valve to check the balloon's ascent when it stuck

Hull Hastens To Roosevelt

Secretary Of State, Returning From London, Goes To Hyde Park

DENIES REPORTS
HE IS RESIGNING

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, chairman of the United States delegation to the London monetary and economic conference, arrived aboard the liner President Harding today and promptly spliced rumors that he planned to resign.

"I have no intention of resigning now or in the future," he said. "I have not even been speculative on the subject."

Promptly on debarking, Secretary Hull departed by automobile for Hyde Park to report to President Roosevelt. He said he planned to spend today and tonight at the president's summer home, leaving for Washington tomorrow.

Answers Questions.

In addition to handing out a formal statement, the secretary answered questions informally for about 15 minutes. In the background during the interview stood
Mrs. Hull and the secretary's niece,
Mrs. Paul Hayes.

Secretary Hull was emphatic in denying that the conference had not been a "success."

"The conference is just getting well commenced," he said.

When he was asked if the results
had not been disappointing, he said:
"That question is like asking a man if he has quit beating his wife."

"The conference can be depended upon to go forward in the future as fast as the nature and difficulty of the problems permit. They have been piling up in every part of the world with the natural result that a corresponding time is necessary to consider and solve them."

Governor Pinchot Plans Withdrawal Of National Guards

Governor Will Not Keep Troops In Coal Fields
Any Longer Than Is Necessary

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—National Guardmen will be withdrawn from the bituminous zone "in the very near future," but not immediately, Gov. Gifford Pinchot said before leaving the capital today.

"I will not leave them there a minute longer than is necessary," he said. He let it be assumed they would remain there for the early part of next week when he expected all the miners will have returned to their posts.

The governor planned to spend the week-end at his Millford home, stating his return here on Monday depended upon conditions in the strike area.

French Fliers Seek To Break Distance Mark

Leave New York On Proposed Hop To Turkey Or Persia

HUGE PLANE IS USED IN JOURNEY

Weather Conditions Are Reported As Ideal For Trip;
Head For Ireland

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Maurice Ravel and Paul Codos, daring French fliers, hopped off from Floyd Bennett field at 5:41 o'clock (EDT) this morning on a long distance flight across the Atlantic.

Seeking to break the world's distance flight record, the two Frenchmen planned to fly to Turkey or Persia without a stop.

They got their huge plane with an enormous load of gasoline into the air without difficulty after a 4000-foot run and turned out over the sea to face a crimson sky.

Head For Ireland

The fliers will probably hit straight up the Atlantic coast, they said, as far as Newfoundland, cutting out to sea at that point and heading for the southern tip of Ireland. Their course will take them over their home city, Paris. They will not stop at the French capital, but continue east over Germany, down the Balkan peninsula and then over Asia Minor eastward as far as their fuel will carry them.

Weather conditions along the coast and across the Atlantic were reported ideal.

The fliers carried five chickens,
three dozen oranges, two dozen lemons,
two dozen bananas, eight quarts of mineral water and seven quarts of black coffee.

Two life preservers, as well as two inflated "safety" suits, were carried.
A set of flares was in the cockpit.

Push Action To Re-Open Banks

U.S. Department Sends Representative To Western Pennsylvania

HIGH TIME TO GET RESULTS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—"We're getting action."

With that pithy comment, characteristic of the New Deal, former supreme court justice Sweeney Johnson rolled up his sleeves and went to work today to reopen closed banks in Western Pennsylvania.

Johnson was sent here by comptroller of the currency J. F. T.
O'Connor. His coming fulfills the treasury department's promise of several weeks ago that unless closed
banks in Western Pennsylvania showed more speed in submitting plans for reopening, the administration would take a hand.

Time or Decisive Action

Interviewed on what he intended to do, Johnson amplified his first greeting by saying:
"I think it's high time closed banks either reopen or liquidate."

"We will not stand for reopening of any bank whose assets are below 50 per cent liquid. But this conservator-operation is not a healthy one."

Johnson explained it was not the function of the comptroller of currency to reopen or rehabilitate banks, but merely to help. And that, he said, is what he was sent out here to do.

Each bank, O'Connor recently said there were 34 in Western Pennsylvania which had not submitted plans for reopening, will be given individual attention.

With Johnson when he arrived were examiners Nichols and Sailor.
The three have offices in the Federal Reserve Bank here and expect to remain for the rest of the month.

Up To Depositors

In the last analysis, Johnson explained, after telling what he proposed to do here, the depositors of the closed banks are the ones who should force the issue and insist that a plan of reopening be drawn up and sent to Washington.

"The depositor is the individual most vitally affected if the bank remains closed," said Johnson.

"Therefore it is the depositor who ought to initiate the action to remedy the situation."

The former justice corroborated O'Connor's recent declaration that conservators who fail to "get to work on a plan to reopen" will be removed in favor of somebody who will do so.

cept for a visit by counsel, her chil-

General Moratorium On Strikes; Lockouts Arranged In Nation

(International News Service)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 5.— A truce between capital and labor embracing a general moratorium on strikes and lockouts pending establishment of his recovery codes has been effected by President Roosevelt, it was learned today shortly before his recovery administrator, General
Hugh S. Johnson left Hyde Park for Washington.

At the President's instance, according to information from reliable sources, both workers and employers have promised to remain at peace and move forward as a single unit until the chief executive's great recovery machine is operating at full speed.

Formal Announcement Soon

Announcement of the industrial Armistice will be formally made in a few hours, it was said. It was signaled by the president's settlement of the bitter dispute in Pennsylvania's bituminous coal fields.

President Roosevelt hopes that the impetus supplied by this peace between elements that in the past have been constantly at war will bring an eventful permanent truce of the same sort.

Johnson brought detailed plans both of the general truce and the coal settlement here in a dramatic night airplane flight.

The first step in the reorganization of relations between capital and labor was revealed with announcement of settlement of the threatening Pennsylvania strike by appointment of a board of three to settle disagreements pending the drafting of a code of fair competition, resulting in higher wages and shorter hours.

France Fears N.R.A. Program, Says Dr. Baker promise of a "wonderful story" in a few weeks, Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, was back at his office today following a trip to Europe which he attempted to keep secret and admittedly failed.

He would not give reporters any inkling of what the story he promised them was about. But he did make known his observations of how the continent is taking some of the things going on in the world.

Of the NRA, he said:
"France fears it and Britain is studying it intently." The German press, he said, was so completely dominated by Hitler that it hadn't time to comment.

Everybody ridicules the London conference and almost everybody blames the United States for its failure, he added.

early today announced the end of the Pennsylvania coal strike, declaring that never before had a strike of such proportions been settled so quickly.

The chief executive's an-

and a coal strike which threatened to throw 200,000 men out of work and had already made idle 70,000 work-settled through its efforts.

HOLD FOUR IN STOCK MARKET "BOMBING"

Boston Police Make Arrests

Spectacular Raid Reveals Packages Of "Fake" Bombs In Place

RESEMBLE "BOMB" USED IN EXCHANGE

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Four men were being held by police today and a fifth man, alleged leader of a new political party, was being sought for questioning in connection with the "tear gas" bombing of the New York Stock Exchange.

The quartette was arrested in a spectacular raid on a Milk street building.

Find Fake Bombs
Police discovered packages, evidently "fake" bombs, addressed to President Roosevelt, Ex-President Hoover and former candidate for president Norman Thomas.

Investigators branded the "bombs" as "fake" but asserted that they might have been easily converted into genuine bombs.

Police said the "bombs" resembled the one found on the doorstep of Mayor James M. Curley's home last September.

The four men arrested gave their names as Willis Overton, Somerville; Otto Keferle, Cambridge; Paul Palace, West Somerville, and Clarence Lyons of Cambridge.

Seek Fifth Man
Eugene S. Daniell, Jr., 28, attorney and self-styled leader of the National commoners' party, was the fifth man sought. He admitted to police last September that he placed the "bomb" in the doorway of Mayor Curley's home.

Authorities also learned that Daniell sought a pass from a Boston man admission to the New York Stock Exchange and also to the grain pit of curb building.

Daniell Taken
New York, Aug. 5.—Eugene S. Daniell, Jr., 28, the Harvard graduate sought on charges of setting off tear gas bombs in the New York Stock Exchange and forcing the suspension of trading; was arrested today on advice from Boston police at the St. Paul Hotel at 60th street and Columbus avenue.

Daniell was traced by a telephone call he made to his wife in Somerville, Mass.

STRATOSPHERE FLIGHT RESULTS IN FAILURE

wide open, releasing the hydrogen gas.

He had intended, he said, to stop at that altitude and wait for the warming rays of the sun to expand the cargo and buoy the balloon high into the upper reaches of the atmosphere.

The balloon, longest ever built, was salvaged and probably will be used again soon in another attempt to reach the stratosphere for the purpose of studying the cosmic ray.

Started 24 Hour Flight.
Commander Settle was prepared for a 24-hour flight into the upper reaches of the atmosphere where he planned to soar to an altitude of 11 miles to shatter the world's record set by Prof. Auguste Piccard, Swiss scientist, who ascended to 53,153 feet.

The seven-foot spherical gondola in which Commander Settle rode was equipped with scientific instruments to record data on the cosmic ray.

Slugged-Killer SOUGHT AT ERIE FOR DUAL CRIME

of stove wood, battering her head to a pulp.

It is believed the slayer attacked the brother first and that this attack took place in the barn at the rear of the Biegert home. The slayer woman was struck with a club first. Then the killer, fearing that he had been recognized, rammed a pitchfork through the man's abdomen and lungs a dozen times.

A former employee of the couple who disappeared shortly after the first robbery three years ago was being sought for questioning by police. He had been seen in the vicinity recently and had written to Biegert asking for a job.

Now Missing.
The slayer apparently found what he was looking for because the house was only partly ransacked. It is known that the couple had money in the house. Biegert had recently withdrawn his entire savings from a Girard bank.

Fingerprint experts have obtained three excellent samples, police said. It is expected that upon these prints will hinge the case against the slayer.

TRUCE AGREED UPON IN STRIKE OF COAL MINERS

fore his industrial board leading to drafting of this code will begin.

Temporary Settlement
Prior to agreement on a code, all disagreements are to be settled by the president announced, by a board to which both operators and miners in the coal strike agreed. Personnel of the board will include Gerard Swope, of the General Electric Co., Louis Kirstein of the firm of Flene and Son of Boston and George L. Berry of Nashville, Tenn., head of the pressmen's union.

Both coal operators and miners agreed to the agreement as worked out by the president and Johnson, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America was notified shortly after midnight from here that Mr. Roosevelt heartily approved of the settlement.

Johnson, who arrived here at 11 p. m. daylight time last night spent more than an hour with the president and left here about 8 a. m. by plane for Washington.

Return 60,000 to Work
President Roosevelt's announcement from Hyde Park that the bituminous coal strike was settled pending completion of an NRA code for the industry will send 60,000 men back to their picks.

Some mines were operating today although at many times it was stated no operations were planned until the beginning of the week. It was not immediately learned whether the H. C. Frick Coke company tipple would open today or Monday.

Some Ignore Order
Ignoring President Roosevelt's announcement of a peace settlement, striking mine pickets today centered their activities around three mines in the strike-paralyzed region of Fayette county, forcing two of the workings to shut down.

Several hundred pickets met miners going to work at Oliver No. 1 and 2 mines of the Pleasant Valley Coal company in strike-torn Fayette county this morning and turned 600 miners away from the tipple, forcing them to join the walkout which has affected 150 mines and 60,000 men in the last two weeks.

A normal force of men was escorted through a picket line of 700 at Standard mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company by special sheriff's deputies. The men were not permitted from going to work, although they were jeered vociferously.

Patrick T. Fagan, district president of the United Mine Workers, in a statement to newspapermen today said he has ordered all strikers to return to work Monday.

No disorders occurred at any of the three mines.

Scottdale Mine.
SCOTSDALE, Pa., Aug. 5.—Despite announcement of a strike settlement by President Roosevelt, 500 pickets stormed the Standard mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company today, according to the company's offices here.

A normal force of men went to work, escorted through the lines of pickets by special deputy sheriffs from Fayette county. Standard is in Westmoreland county. There was no disorder but pickets jeered the workers as they entered the mine pit.

E. R. Sherrick of the superintendent of the Frick company here, said the Frick mines in Fayette county would not operate today and that he had received no orders for operation Monday.

Order 100 Per Cent Compliance.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—"One hundred per cent" compliance with the terms of the coal strike truce is expected from the striking miners, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said today when shown I. N. S. dispatches from Uniontown reporting the men still out and picketing three mines in Fayette county.

"I'm sure," said Lewis, "that if the men have ignored the settlement it is because they haven't yet heard of it. The announcement came late, and in that region communication facilities are bad, few telegraph wires and telephones. We will get 100 per cent cooperation when the men are apprised of the situation."

President's Statement.
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Here is the brief statement by which President Roosevelt proclaimed that his "new deal" had averted the consequences of a coal strike which threatened to throw 200,000 miners of Pennsylvania's rich coal fields out of work:

"A great coal strike threatened the entire bituminous field and because of scant storage at factories—also threatened the revival of manufacture on which such depends.

"On the basis of the simple suggestion for settlement made by General Johnson, both management and labor have declared an absolute truce on dissension at the mines to await the resolution of the whole matter at the coming hearings on the coal codes.

"In the meantime all disagreements are to be settled by a board of my selection to which both sides agree—Gerard Swope, Louis Kirstein and George L. Berry. Never in our country has a strike of such threatened proportions been settled so quickly and so generously.

"The public-spirited men on both sides of the agreement are to be congratulated in thus averting threatened disaster, but I cannot let the occasion pass without referring to the tireless and constructive labors of the intermediaries, Governor Finckh, Gerard Swope, Edward McCord, Grady and Walter Teagle, as well as to the operators, and to John Lewis and other representatives of the miners."

Sample of American humor heard on a street car: "He has a new device on his car that saves so much gas that he had to stop every fifty miles and bail the gas out of his tank to keep it from running over."

WALL STREET DRAFTS DRASTIC CODE

NEW rules have been put in force by the New York Stock Exchange to curb speculation, to enforce practices in support of recent banking legislation, and to carry out the spirit of economic recovery. The regulations for marginal trading are said to be the most drastic in history. For the first time on record the Board of Governors is establishing minimum requirements. It demands, for instance, fifty per cent margins from customers having accounts less than $5000 and margins of thirty per cent for accounts above that figure. Heretofore the mandate was that margins be "adequate," leaving specifications to the individual members. Now a minimum margin of ten points has been fixed for short accounts.

By taking this voluntary action the Stock Exchange not only anticipates the possibility of facing regulation by congress under the public pressure of recent disasters, but also sets an example for exchanges in other cities.

While strict surveillance over speculation is the feature of public interest in the present reform, other aspects of the regulations are designed to harmonize with the New Deal. Interest paid on balances must conform to the intent of the Glass Banking Act. In certain lines of work minimum wages must be recognized. Restrictions are also placed on "expense accounts" and on the solicitation of business at customers' homes.

Whether the entire program will be sufficient to stave off action by congress remains to be seen, though it is doubtful that statutory enactments could be more effective than the rules drafted by men best conversant with the evils of common practice.

DRUGS AND CRIME

In the Harrison drug act the people of the United States have a law which was enacted for control of the sale and distribution of habit-forming drugs. It is in no sense reform legislation, but a practical measure of regulation. Under its operation annually vast quantities of narcotic drugs smuggled into the country are seized and numerous arrests of peddlers are made.

As more than 90 per cent of the drugs unlawfully used are smuggled into the country and distributed surreptitiously, there is no way of knowing how many addicts there are. Estimates run all the way from 100,000 to 1,000,000.

The fact that most of the crimes committed by the gang type are crimes of young men who have formed the drug habit supports the statements made from time to time by heads of penal institutions and welfare organizations that dope is one of the principal causes of crime.

That the United States has the greatest per capita consumption of opium among the leading nations of the world is an index to the ratio of consumption here of other and more vicious drugs, such as heroin. This in spite of years of rigid enforcement of the Harrison act. It is impossible to know what conditions would be today had there been no attempt at control.

Nothing is more likely to bring men to complete degradation than narcotic drugs, yet what efforts are made to warn rising generations against their use?

WASTEFUL FOREST FIRES

In spite of all precautions, last year was one of the most disastrous in history in forest fire losses. Nearly 6,000 separate fires occurred in national forests alone, destroying timber with many millions of dollars, covering an area of more than 840,000 acres.

No estimates of the losses in state and private forests are available, but they reach an enormous total. When it is considered that a large percentage of the trees burned were around 100 years old, the lasting damage to an important resource can be better appreciated.

The problems of reducing these losses is a most difficult one. Much money is being spent in providing forest rangers, lookout stations, airplane patrols and other means for detecting and extinguishing incipient fires, but under conditions of extreme drought, such as obtained last year, these seem unavailing.

Still, nearly all these losses are caused by the carelessness of tourists and others, who fail to exercise caution in the disposition of burning matches, cigar and cigarette butts, and in putting out camp fires before leaving them.

Most fires, in forests and elsewhere, are caused by indifferent and negligence, which it seems impossible to overcome.

TEMPTING POLITICAL SPOILS

A word of warning which the Roosevelt administration must heed in time or risk disaster to its recovery program comes from the National Civil Service Reform League. "Without a single exception," says the organization's council in a report recently presented, "the new agencies of the government have been thrown open to the political spoilsman to do with as they see fit. The excuse given when objection has been made to exemption from Civil Service tests has been made that these agencies are a part of the emergency program and that they may be temporary in character. A more specious excuse could not be devised to hoodwink the public."

Nobody has estimated, so far as we know, the number of new jobs that will be created by the sweeping program of industrial and farm recovery. The Muscle Shoals project, involving the entire Tennessee River Valley, will open up countless more. New bureaus and commissions will be required in all parts of the country to handle the vast governmental powers created by recent legislation.

The opportunities for political favoritism in this immense new machinery are obvious. With the best will in the world, the president and his aids will have difficulty in keeping it out of the hands of the spoilsman. Possibly it would have been impracticable to place all these positions under Civil Service so long as speed in organization is an important consideration. Nevertheless there is a clear obligation on those in authority, as the report says, "to see to it that the appointments made to the subordinate staffs of the emergency bureaus shall be of the best qualified persons."—The Rochester Times-Union.

FORGIVENESS

There is a flame that warms a man but does not burn. It is called, if you would give it a name, Forgiveness.

And there are two sides, as there are to all things, to this treasure of life. There is the forgiveness that is in the heart of the forgiven, of the man who has faltered and offended and who has been living for a dreary while in dark places, but who is lifted up and taken to the heart and made one of the dear circle of men again. It is the warm flame in "his" heart of which I am thinking.

Much has been written of forgiving. Balzac said that when women love us they forgive everything. Sterne thought that the brave only know how to forgive. It has been said by someone whose name I no longer remember that when you half forgive your enemy, it is like leaving a bag of rusty nails between him and you. And Lavater said that he who has not forgiven an enemy has never yet tasted one of the most sublime enjoyments of life.

Very well, but there's a danger there if a man thinks of forgiving injuries only in a proud spirit, as if it were a pleasure, a jewel, a debauch of spiritual superiority. The richest harvest of forgiveness is in the heart of the man who has come home again to tenderness and understanding and blessed companionship. There's nothing sweeter, no more lovely experience than that.

A man does many foolish things as he lives along. Too often he is weak, reckless, intemperate, false to his dream of how he should be living. . . . Despite himself he offends those he loves and tramples their picture of him in the mud. He hurts them and shuts them away. And sometimes he thinks his own acts have banished him from their hearts forever. . . . But they come to him and forgive. By a glance of the eye friendly and comforting. By a touch of the hand. By some inclusion of him in their lives they bring him shoulder to shoulder—and it's then the good flame leaps up in him once more and he is glad he is truly alive again and feels himself once more a man, the equal of any, and profoundly cleansed.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A HARVARD DEGREE
Many university men were scandalized when Harvard conferred the degree of "LL.D." upon Alfred E. Smith. A Boston newspaper has this to say about it:

"Pate simply could not conceal him by naming him 'Smith'. Nor could he, in the fish market or 'Tear many propinquity in youth obscure the virtue worth of the maturity of a unique personality. . . . All of which Harvard has recognized, just as in earlier days it appreciated the solid merit of other men who never entered academic gates. It so honored Jackson, to Brahmins' dismay, and it so sought to honor Cleveland. A tradition of independent fibre and of public service has always roused Harvard's response, whatever be the false popular doubts of its own democracy."

"In 1928 there was visible hereabouts a distinct unofficial or volunteer manifestation of such support on local Harvard circles, perhaps enhanced by certain things which they unworthily weighed against proper estimation of that personality. Since then the Smith statue has unquestionably risen in general appraisal, until now there would be little cavil with the university's accolade, given with customary precision of phrase, which praises both a long record as Governor and a demonstrated 'courage to proclaim unpopular opinions in the time of trouble.'"

"One can hardly fail in these connections to recall the pioneering crusade against prohibition, the outspoken opposition to bonus abuses, (Continued On Page Five)

Death Penalty In Kidnaping Creates Subject Of Debate

Opinions As To Serving Of Justice And Protection Of Public Range From Doubt As To Results To Position It Should Represent Retribution

National attention is directed to the outcome of the kidnaping case in Missouri, where a Kansas City court ordered the hanging of Walter McElroy for the abduction of Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager McElroy. Much indorsement is given to the ordering of this penalty, although there is some belief that the sentence should involve a greater sense of retribution, while on the other hand, a fear is expressed, as in previous discussions of the subject, that endorsement of the law might be dangerous to the victim.

"This woman stealer," remarks the TOLEDO BLADE, "may be too young to remember that like penalty was once customarily imposed upon horse thieves, not that the horse and the human life were balanced evenly one against the other in the scale of values, but that other horses might not be stolen. The horse stealing industry declined as more and more horse thieves were hanged at a time when the only loophole in the law was a noose at the end of a rope. Possibly kidnapers may be similarly discouraged or frightened."

With a welcome for the Federal investigators' entrance into this field "more actively than before," the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS declares: "Prosecutor Mastin's opinion that one hanging will be a more effective deterrent than 20 penitentiary sentences, doubtless will be echoed generally. Attorney General Cummings, who has thrown the Federal Department of Justice into the concerted drive against kidnapers and other organized criminals, comments that the Kansas City verdict shows 'how the people feel about this problem.' While hysteria is to be deprecated as inimical to justice in the end, the widespread conviction that here is a desperate situation demanding a desperate remedy is well founded."

"No penalty," thinks the NEW YORK SUN, "is too heavy for those who commit the detestable crime," and that paper feels that "the suffering they inflict on individuals and the fear they create in the popular mind call for the utmost severity." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS argues that "the wretches are without mercy themselves and the punishment of death fits such a crime." The PASADENA STAR-NEWS suggests that "it is ridiculous to assume that an enlightened society cannot find means for wiping out, at least to a large degree, this nefarious racket. That paper points out that it is 'but one phase of the entire racketeering business,' and is inclined to believe that 'America will need to surrender its fondness for local independence and make every policeman of the nation part of a great, centralized organization.' The STAR-NEWS also quotes a suggestion that 'everyone be compelled to carry a passy.'"

No Agreements Yet Received In Regard To Various Branches Of Industry

STILL AWAITING INFORMATION HERE

There is still some confusion in New Castle and Lawrence county over the provisions of the President's blanket code, sent out about 10 days ago, and many varied interpretations are being placed. Chairman Fred L. Rentz of the Lawrence county committee has found.

No further information has been received from Washington relative to different branches of industry and business as yet, and local business firms and industries can best solve their own problems by trying to adhere to the principals outlined in the blanket code, Mr. Rentz stated today.

As soon as authentic information is received from General Hugh Johnson, federal administrator, this will be passed on to the various groups affected.

The sad news of the death of Anna Curran Moore Bucke, wife of W. Fowler Bucke, former principal of the New Castle senior high school, has been received from New Buffalo, Pa., by Miss M. Kate Stockman of this city.

Mrs. Bucke died July 21 at her home in New Buffalo, Pa. She had been ill for several years but had been able to go about and the day she died she had prepared dinner and helped her son, W. Fowler Bucke, Jr., get ready to go on a picnic.

Mrs. Bucke is survived by her husband, who is well known and greatly loved by the people of New Castle. Mrs. Bucke, daughter of the late J. H. B. Moore and Ida Jane Gray Moore, was born in Chester county March 10, 1872, and later moved with her parents to Philadelphia. There she was married to W. Fowler Bucke in 1896.

Rev. Resler Shultz, a nephew, and Dr. J. E. A. Bucke, a brother-in-law, both of Harrisburg, assisted at the funeral services. Rev. H. E. Crow of Burnham, a life-long friend, also spoke.

Mrs. Bucke is survived by, in addition to husband and son, a sister, Mrs. Ida Supplee of Philadelphia, and three brothers, Rea Moore of Okanoga, Wash., Harry C. and Edward Moore of Laughlin, N. D.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Japanese government has lodged a protest with Washington against the new United States naval building program, stating it is a menace to Japan, the London Daily Express said it understood today.

Chicago Man Is
Suicide Victim

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—When confronted by his third wife and two women he had promised to marry, Julius Straub, 62 year old, drew a revolver and shot and killed himself today.

The three women, Mrs. Emily Bursat, the man's "wife" of a year; Mrs. Minnie Kaufman, 50, and Mrs. Mary Schneider, 52, were waiting upstairs in the home of Mrs. Bursat when Straub shot and killed himself in the basement.

POETIC LADYBUGS
HELP SAVE CROP

(International News Service)
LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—The ladybug now is serving a utilitarian purpose as well as being the subject of nursery rhymes.

About 50,000 of the poetic insects have been released in a field of alfalfa and peas by a canning company.

The ladybugs eat about thirty aphids, or plant lice, daily. The aphids have been threatening crops in this vicinity.

POLA NEGRI AND HAROLD MCCORMICK

Although cables from France have announced the approaching marriage of Harold F. McCormick, Chicago millionaire, and Pola Negri, of screen fame, both have denied the report. McCormick, former husband of the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick and Ganna Walska, opera star, is in Chicago, while Miss Negri, now on the Riviera, sails for America early in September. Her manager admitted that McCormick sends her flowers and cablegrams.

First List Of 100 N. R. A.
Signers Is Posted Here

A special bulletin from Philadelphia, carrying the first roll of 100 local NRA signers, was posted by Postmaster Lake S. MacNab in the post office lobby today, while registry clerks handed out additional "blue eagle" display sets to employers that sent the total number of signers about the 600 mark.

The bulletin came from the department of commerce headquarters now compiling for each western Pennsylvania post office the lists of community employers who have adopted President Roosevelt's plan for a national recovery.

Additional bulletins are expected next week.

Postmaster MacNab called attention today to the consumers' pledge part of the program urging employers to sign up as many consumers as they can in order that the program may be more widespread.

Each employer who received a display set was given 10 consumers' pledge cards and stickers to distribute about their friends in the city.

The consumer's pledge, similar in spirit to the employers' covenant, obligates the signers to patronize only NRA stores and to give their whole-hearted support to the recovery program.

Guard Denver Home Of Millionaire Capitalist For Fear Of Kidnaping Reprisal

(International News Service)
DENVER, Aug. 5.—A police guard has been thrown around the mansion of Claude K. Boettcher, Denver capitalist, and Charles Boettcher, II, his millionaire son, to prevent a possible attack by members of the Verne Sankey kidnap band, it was revealed today.

The younger Boettcher was the victim of a spectacular kidnap plot engineered by Sankey last February and released only after payment of the $50,000 ransom demanded for his freedom.

And now we have just around the corner our old friend, High Cost of Living.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Captain Stephen D. McGrath and four state police were clubbed and stoned by a mob of more than 200 milk strikers near Criskany today. They are in St. Luke's hospital, Utica.

McGrath was the leader of the troopers who staged the pitched battle with rioting farmers at Boonville early in the week and clubbed eight of the farmers unconscious.

NOW YOU TELL ONE
BEST TRUE NATURE STORIES OF WEEK

AND SPEAKING OF LIONS—
BERNIE SMITH of Kinston, N. C., claims to have captured an escaped circus lion with a drum. He beat it like a tom-tom to hold Leo's attention until the animal was snared by circus attendants.

A HOMING HOUND
A few days after Dr. J. T. Holt moved from Baxley, Ga., to Vienna, 100 miles away in the same state, taking along his pack of fox hounds, his pet hound reappeared at the old home in Baxley, having traveled the whole distance alone.

LOTS OF WONDERS IN GEORGIA
Health Officer E. D. King, Jr., has a corps of snakes in Valdosta, Ga., to rid the city's environs of rattlesnakes, moccasins, copperheads and other poisonous cousins. The king snake is a non-venomous constrictor which does not attack humans. Some of the reptiles placed on police duty are pets borrowed from Valdostans.

DOG BRINGS "BABES" TO CAT
Rabbits are members of the rodent family, blood enemies of felines, but Fluffy, pet cat of Dorothy Langford, a child in La Porte City, Ia., is mothering two baby rabbits taken from a nest in the woods and brought to her by a Spitz dog, also owned by Dorothy. The rabbits are sharing Fluffy's attention with two kittens.

WHEN Mrs. Rolley Inman of Coffeyville, Kan., calls "kitty, nice kitty," a 9-month-old lion bounds to her. It's a pet she's had since it was a few days old. "Kitty" sleeps in the house at night, on an old davenport, has his meals slung side the table with the family. Other folks in Coffeyville are careful about calling "Kitty, nice kitty."

Have you or your friends observed any wonders of animal, fish or bird life more interesting than these? Let other local folks know about them by describing them in a letter or postcard addressed to the Nature Editor.

Nation-Wide Federal Drive On Gangsters And Kidnapers Being Planned

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—A federal crime council to determine the strategy for the government's war against the racketeer today was taking form in the department of justice under the direction of Assistant Secretary of State Raymond I. Moley.

Temporarily relieved of most of his duties in the state department by direction of the president, Moley was at the department of justice commencing preparations for the nation-wide federal drive to wipe out kidnapping and racketeering.

The nucleus of the crime council is composed of Moley, Attorney General Cummings, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, Sanford Bates, superintendent of federal prisons, and Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant to the Attorney General.

Plans For Study
With this group Moley will plan the campaign by which the federal government hopes to rid the country of the racketeer.

The first step will be a study by Moley, in collaboration with Hoover, Bates and Keenan, of methods by which the government can start an effective campaign.

This will entail a study of existing federal, state and municipal laws to determine the loopholes through which criminals now are able to escape justice. These loopholes will be plugged even if it requires federal legislation to do so.

The possibility of coordinating all federal investigation agencies, including the secret service, under one bureau and the establishment of a national federal police organization that would operate without any interference from state boundaries or laws also will be studied.

Bandits Escape With $730 In Cash After Emory Hotel Robbery

(International News Service)
BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 5.—Three men today held up and robbed Clarence Nelly, clerk of the Emory Hotel here, and escaped with $730 in cash and $71 in checks.

Nelly was counting receipts at the time of the robbery.

The three men entered the hotel and forced Nelly and Charles North a bell hop, into the manager's private office where they ripped the telephone connection to prevent an alarm being spread. The men then scooped up the money which was lying on the desk of the hotel and fled.

Police throughout the northwest section of the state were immediately notified to be on the look out for the men. It is believed four men made up the robbery group one of whom sat in the getaway car.

JUDGE FINDS $115,000
FOR INDIGENT WOMEN

(International News Service)
SHELTON, Conn.—The eagle eye of Acting Probate Judge James T. Mackay located $115,000 here for the care of aged and indigent women. It grew from a $30,000 bequest left by David S. Lane in 1898.

Trustees had filed an annual inventory but nothing had been done with the accumulating funds until a conference was called recently to decide on the best way to spend the annual $4,000 income.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster college, recently spent several days at the St. Elmo hotel, Chautauqua, Chautauqua Lake, N. Y.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—Removal of NRA insignia from stores of a nation-wide restaurant chain here today had been ordered by the district manager following complaints that the establishments were displaying the blue eagle with complying with the blanket code.

The district manager blamed the display of insignia to the over-zealousness of store managers.

At the same time, Frank G. Harper, secretary of the chamber of commerce, announced that the local committee is now ready to investigate any complaints of violations under the blanket code.

American Women Lead Opponents In Tennis Play

Despite Loss Of Helen Wills Moody, America Will Likely Win Wightman Cup

SARAH PALFREY IS SENSATION

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—They've been plucking the old bird, feather by feather, here of late but yesterday the eagle screamed anew on a high note of defiance to a world that had begun to hint that American lawn tennis no longer really mattered. Today, he'll finish on a final tremor, doubtless to attach the Wightman cup for another year and send England home defeated; only in this case it isn't a he. It's a lady eagle; in fact, two ladies.

They are respectively Miss Sarah Palfrey, of Brookline, Mass., and Miss Helen Jacobs, of the San Francisco Bay district, who yesterday constituted themselves a committee of two to rout the British in all three matches played and today need only claim the necessary fourth in the schedule of seven matches. In other words, the Americans are doing it the hard way with a two-girl defense of the cup, made necessary by some uncertainty in connection with Miss Alice Marble, who is ailing, and the definite withdrawal of Helen Wills Moody, who is ill.

America Leading
Helen of Berkeley, the undisputed world's champion, did not play yesterday, owing to what was announced as an injured vertebrae. She may not play today. Even if she doesn't, the locale of the cup already seemed settled after what happened yesterday, in some respects the greatest of all days known to women's tennis in America.

First, Miss Jacobs went out and reversed her Wimbledon defeat to win from Mrs. Moody's arch-rival and England's best, Miss Dorothy Round, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. Next, Miss Palfrey, a little timid at first but gaining confidence as she went on, swept Peggy Grienoff off the courts to win in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1.

Then they teamed up to win the doubles from Miss Round and Mary Healey in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, to shut the British out without a single set.

Butler Avenue Defeats Madison Avenue Pitchers

Horseshoe Pitching Contest Is Staged At Butler Avenue Court

Butler avenue court horseshoe pitching team last night defeated the Madison avenue court team in four out of five games played on the Butler avenue court.

Kelso and Shaffer of the Butler avenue team did the best work of the evening. Uber and Smith did the best for the Madison avenue team. The Butler avenue team will play the Madison avenue team at Mahoningtown on Tuesday night of next week.

The Butler avenue team would like to book some games and those interested should get in touch with Kelso and Shaffer of the Butler avenue team.

Walter Hagen Is Setting Records

Hagen Is Idol Of Scotland As He Records Rounds Of 44 And 65

(International News Service)
INVERNESS, Scotland, Aug. 5.—Walter Hagen is Scotland's idol today.

In the past four days the veteran Detroit professional has set three new course records in this northernmost part of the country. Yesterday the Haig set a new mark for the historic Inverness course with an amazing round of 32-64. Denny Shute, Philadelphia, British open champion, who is on a barnstorming tour with Hagen, scored 35-70. Today they played at North Berwick.

Hagen scored a 65 at Pitlochry on Thursday and a 64 at Kingussie on Wednesday.

Tigers-Orrs Game Is Off

Today's Lawrence County League game between the Orrs and West Side Tigers has been called off, and will be played at the West Side Field on August 6.

Giants Seeking Batting Record In Philadelphia

Giants Hammer Philly Pitchers For 58 Hits In Last Three Games

PIRATES TRIP ST. LOUIS CARDS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The versatile New York Giants, hitherto renowned this season for the feats of their pitchers, have now turned sluggers and will attempt to shatter two batting marks in a double header at the Polo Grounds of the Philadelphia Phillies this afternoon.

The league leaders have compiled the imposing total of 58 hits in their last three games with the Quakers. They need 38 in today's two games to better the mark set in the same park in 1923 by the Brooklyn Dodgers, who collected 95 hits in a five game series, and judging from the battered condition of the Philly mound staff, the nts may crack the record.

O'Doul Seeks Record
Hot on the trail of the other record is Francis Xavier O'Doul, National League batting king last season. The clouting cell has hit safely in his last eight official times at bat. The National League record is ten; the American League record eleven. The play off on this one is that O'Doul had been benched for a week due to weak hitting.

In butchering the Phils yesterday 18 to 1 the Giants slammed out 23 hits, duplicating almost exactly their carnival in the second game on Wednesday's double bill when they belted 24 hits and scored 18 runs.

Flint Rhem who was "kidnaped" in Brooklyn a few years ago when he was with the Cards, was practically murdered yesterday. But he proved he could take it by staying in there for eight innings while the Giants patted his offering for 21 hits. After the Terrymen scored nine runs in the eighth, Manager Burt Shotton of the Phils finally took pity on Rhem and sent Liska in to mop up.

Pirates Win
Pittsburgh remained three games behind the leaders by nosing out the Cardinals 5 to 4, squaring the series. Hits by Lloyd Waner and Pie Traynor broke up the game in the ninth. Three St. Louis errors paved the way for as many Pirates runs in the seventh and ruined some good pitching by Burleigh Grimes.

The Braves made it six wins in their last seven starts by downing Brooklyn twice, 4 to 1 and 3 to 0. The opener was a duel between Ben Cantwell and Ray Benge. In the nightcap Bob Smith held the Dodgers to four hits. Bill Berger leading the National League home run race, cracked No. 20.

Hank Greenberg of Detroit beat the White Sox single handed 3 to 2. He drove in all Detroit's runs, hitting a homer with one on in the second inning and breaking up the game with a single in the eleventh. Other clubs were not scheduled.

West Pittsburgh Loses To Ryantown

Ryantown Breaks Tie To Score Winning Run In Last Inning

Ryantown defeated West Pittsburgh five to four on the former's field yesterday. West Pittsburgh scored three runs in the second to deadlock the score. They deadlocked it again in the sixth, four to four, as Ryantown got their fourth run in the fifth. In the eighth Ryantown made the winning run with one out. Hill allowed five hits and Tonsiet permitted nine.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
West Pittsburgh .080 001 00—4 5 3
Ryantown .300 010 01—5 9 3
Batteries—Ryantown, Hill and Walzer; West Pittsburgh, Tonsiet and Gogeynova. Umpires—Bishop and Hegenova.

Ramblers Defeat Castle Cords, 15-5

Ramblers Batter Brace Of Hurters; Coates Proves Effective

Castle Cords lost to South Side Ramblers, 15 to 5 on Clifton Flats. The Ramblers got 18 hits of Watkins and Hotberg while Coates struck out six and allowed nine hits. W. Phillips got a triple and a double. Kosky hit for three bases and Logan, R. Mann and Taylor got two-base clouts.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Castle Cords .000 140 0—5 9 3
Ramblers .172 032 15—18 2
Batteries—Castle Cords, Shutsberg, Watkins and Kosky; Ramblers, Coates and W. Phillips. Umpires—B. and N. Lucas.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Directors of the Sharon Country Club have promised to consider an adjustment and the 25 caddies have resumed their duties. The boys fee for a nine hole round recently was cut from 35 to 25 cents.

Walter Hagen yesterday smashed the record for the Inverness, Scotland course with a 32-64 while Denny Shute, carded 35-70.

Gas Steinburg, 30, light heavyweight wrestler of Woukin, Ia., is in a critical condition from blood poisoning. During a mat bout a pimple on his face was bruised.

Pirates Are In Chicago Today

Pittsburgh Pirates Will Try To Pick Up Ground At Expense Of Cubs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5.—The Pittsburgh-St. Louis baseball feud was, in temporary adjournment today to permit both teams to proceed with other games on the schedule.

Pittsburgh plays at Chicago today and tomorrow; the Cards will be at Cincinnati. Steve Swetonic is prepared to pitch the opening game for the Buccs.

The warring clubs separated yesterday with their temperaments seething as the result of another argument between members of opposing teams. Umpires and players jumped between Capt. "Pie" Traynor and Burleigh Grimes, St. Louis pitcher, when they menacingly moved toward each other after a hot verbal exchange in the second inning. The controversy started from a close play at home plate in which Traynor was thrown out while trying to score the second Pittsburgh run.

Although outthit 13 to 8, Pittsburgh earned an even break in the four-game series by winning out 4-4 in the closing frame. Capt. Traynor's only hit of the game, a single with the stations filled, decided the game.

Grimes, starting his first game since being let out by Chicago, opened for the Cardinals but required relief. Heinie Melne, who came in for Larry French with the score tied 4-4 in the eighth, was given credit for his ninth victory.

Rapidly climbing out of his slump, Lloyd Waner is now batting at a .282 clip and regaining his reputation as one of the league's best lead-off men. He is subbing for the ailing Freddy Lindstrom.

Monarchs Hope To Beat Bessemer

Colored Monarchs and Bessemer will play a Lawrence County Twilight baseball league game on the B. and A. field Monday. The game originally was carded for August 10. Bessemer won from Monarchs in their first game. Boggs will pitch for Monarchs and probably Snyder for Bessemer.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON
Central Press Association

A SINGLE GLOVE SHOULD BE USED ONLY ON THE LEFT HAND.

ALEX. MORRISON says:
The idea of using a glove is an excellent one, particularly when the glove is used on the left hand.

The glove increases the efficiency of this hand, both in holding the club and in swinging it. It also strengthens the hand during the swing.

For this reason, when using but one glove you should never wear it on your strong hand.

If your right hand needs a glove for some reason then be sure that you wear one on your left hand at the same time.

This will at least maintain the same relation between your hands as exists without gloves.

The proper balance with your hands can be approached only by favoring the weak hand.

Administrator Johnson Is Gratified By National Response to N. R. A. Movement

NON-PARTISAN SELECTIONS MADE

(International News Service)
Administrator Hugh S. Johnson expressed gratification over the government's success in temporarily halting the Pennsylvania miners' strike by having all the operators join the union miners in accepting President Roosevelt's truce.

The motion picture industry, although it has not submitted a code, is mobilized solidly to help educate the public through use of its nation-wide facilities. Short films, featuring notables of the stage and screen, written by well-known authors, will keep the public posted about recovery progress, the committees for this vast effort include every prominent picture mogul on the west coast and elsewhere.

Codes for the knitting machine industry, for the underwear and allied products manufacturers and the boot and shoe industry are before the recovery administration.

Administrator Johnson revealed the vast machine for semi-government regulation of production and price control may be made permanent if it proves successful.

Selections of executives for administration of the national recovery machine are non-partisan, Johnson states.

Will Check Food And Textile Prices In Pennsylvania

Weekly Check Will Be Made At One Or Two Cities Of State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—At least one or two Pennsylvania cities will be headquarters in the administration's nation-wide weekly check of food and textile prices, Dr. Fred C. Howe, consumers' counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, reports.

A nation-wide weekly check of prices and increases in returns to farmers is planned under Dr. Howe's direction. This is for the purpose of protecting consumers and seeing to it that the farmer gets his fair share of retail price advances. Weekly reports on the price trends will be released to the press and by radio and in special bulletins which will be sent to all consumer groups and individuals who request it.

These data will be collected in fifty selected cities by field staffs of Agriculture and Labor Departments. Cities to be surveyed have not yet been determined, but Dr. Howe believes one or two large Pennsylvania cities will be included.

Balbo Wears War Bonnet Made Here

Is Presented With Memento At Century Of Progress By Indians

It's a far cry from New Castle to Rome; and General Italo Balbo, leader of the Italian air squadron which made its epic flight from Italy to Chicago and back again, may not know it, but he is wearing an Indian war bonnet which was made right here in New Castle.

The war bonnet was the product of Paul Mackey of this city, who spends considerable time fashioning Indian relics, which he disposes of to the Indians themselves.

Mackey went to Chicago several weeks ago, for the express purpose of disposing of some of his wares to the Indians gathered at the fair. When Balbo arrived in Chicago he was crowned Chief Flying Eagle, along with several of his lieutenants and they were presented with the war bonnets, which were purchased by the Indians from Mackey and given to the famous flier.
